We took Abby to get her claws trimmed on Saturday and while we were there realized that we'd just passed her second birthday. So instead of her usual post-nail-clipping treat we got her a little, dog friendly cupcake. It was rock solid and iced with yogurt (the kind that usually covers raisins) and Abby was very excited about getting to eat it.

Sniff, sniff

Waiting (mostly) patiently

&quot;Okay!&quot;

Then right over to her cushion for lots of licking, a few quick bites and plenty of tail wags.
