

Pictures From the Weekend

Tuesday, 21 June 2011 03:11

The hot weather has finally arrived and we spent our time puttering around the house and eating popsicles. I've been in the garden and out to the nursery with my sister. A sock and a sundress were finished. We tried a new cereal - Chocolate Cheerios - which turned out to be really nice and not as sweet as I was expecting. Abby wandered around the house sleeping in the cool spots. We had a bit of excitement last night when water bombers started flying over our neighbourhood. Many were so low our house shook as they passed. Lots of people were outside to watch

.

Pictures From the Weekend

Tuesday, 21 June 2011 03:11

